Proper importance should be given to the people by providing employment and alleviating poverty and social evils. In the present capitalistic system, profit earning should not be the motto of businessman. They should follow 'Social Business Concept' where they can utilize some portion of the profit for social development. Because of the defect in the present economic system, the rich people are going to be more richer and the poor people are going down. Professor Yunus has suggested to include 2P-People and Planet in the present economic system. In the present changing world and life style, the economic structure does not work. This is not also sustainable. As a result we must think for survival and prosperity.

Professor Yunus called the power of Youth, Technology, Social Business and Good Governance to create world free from poverty, unemployment and carbon emissions. He further proposed three zero (i) poverty (ii) unemployment and (iii) carbon emissions, only then the world would have sustainable economic development.

Many countries such as USA, China, France and Germany want to adopt the idea of Social Business as a brainchild of Nobel Laureate Professor Yunus. Dr. S. Quadir Patwari, Chairman, Board of Trustees and Professor Dr. K. M. Mohsin made valuable speech at the end of the conference.
